

Keystone National Insurance Company

Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Keystone National Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Keystone National Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 17, 2017

Lebanon Valley Insurance Company

Communications of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Lebanon Valley Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Lebanon Valley Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 17, 2017

Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company

1 7 8 2 5 2 0 1 6 2 2 2 3 8 1 0 0
Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2016, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 17, 2017

Keystone National Insurance Company

Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Keystone National Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Keystone National Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2017, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 20, 2018

Lebanon Valley Insurance Company

Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Lebanon Valley Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Lebanon Valley Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2017, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 20, 2018

Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company

1 7 6 2 5 2 0 1 7 2 2 2 3 9 1 1 0
Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2017, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 20, 2018

Keystone National Insurance Company

Board of Directors
Keystone National Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Keystone National Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2018, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

May 23, 2019

Board of Directors
Lebanon Valley Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Lebanon Valley Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2018, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

May 23, 2019

Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company

Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2018, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be and should not be used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

May 23, 2019

Keystone National Insurance Company

Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Keystone National Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Keystone National Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2019, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

May 19, 2020

Lebanon Valley Insurance Company

Board of Directors
Lebanon Valley Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Lebanon Valley Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2019, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

May 19, 2020

Board of Directors
Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2019, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

May 19, 2020

Keystone National Insurance Company

Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Keystone National Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Keystone National Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2020, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 29, 2021

Board of Directors
Lebanon Valley Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Lebanon Valley Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2020, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 29, 2021

Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company

1 7 8 2 5 2 0 2 0 2 2 2 3 9 1 0 0
Communication of Internal Control Matters Noted in the Audit

Board of Directors
Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company
Wyalusing, Pennsylvania

In planning and performing our audit of the statutory financial statements of Tuscarora Wayne Insurance Company as of and for the year ended December 31, 2020, in accordance with auditing standards generally accepted in the United States of America, we considered the Company's internal control over financial reporting (internal control) as a basis for designing our auditing procedures for the purpose of expressing our opinion on the financial statements, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control. Accordingly, we do not express an opinion on the effectiveness of the Company's internal control.

A deficiency in internal control exists when the design or operation of a control does not allow management or employees, in the normal course of performing their assigned functions, to prevent or detect and correct misstatements on a timely basis. A material weakness is a deficiency, or combination of deficiencies, in internal control, such that there is a reasonable possibility that a material misstatement of the entity's financial statements will not be prevented or detected and corrected on a timely basis.

Our consideration of internal control was for the limited purpose described in the first paragraph and was not designed to identify all deficiencies in internal control that might be deficiencies, significant deficiencies or material weaknesses. We did not identify any deficiencies in internal control that we consider to be material weaknesses, as defined above.

This communication is intended solely for the information and use of management, the Board of Directors, others within the Company and insurance regulatory authorities and is not intended to be, and should not be, used by anyone other than these specified parties.

Brown Schultz Sheridan & Fritz

April 29, 2021